who have leared they could not find accommoda-SOMEWHAT VALUABLE .- The sum of $25 dollars in gold coin was paid in this city last week by a stranger, for one Hawaiian stamp of the denomination of fire crats. It was a numeral, one of the first issues of our post-office department in 1851 or 2 during the lucumitency of the editor of this paper, and, as may be inferred, as extremely rare. THE VOLCANO.-Letters from Hillo, state that Kilones has become very active. The "old south lake" was at latest date greatly excited, perhaps

A Good APPOINTMENT -By a notice under the official heading it well be seen that our respected fellow-townsman, Jason Perry Esq. has been appointed Portugues Consul for this port. The number of Portugese in the country is already quite large, and it is highly appropriate that they should have a representative of their government near at hand. The selection will meet with general approval. Mr. Perry is a resident of many years standing on these islands, and be has by his torill and industry amassed lite a fortune, as well as secured the esteem of S. S. COLINA .- This unfortunate boat, we are inforward, has been ordered by telegraph to return as speedily as possible, and she was to leave Danedin as soon as the repairs on her propeller were completed; probably on the 25th of April. She may be expected here in all next week, as it is improbable that she will pass without touching, and will take freight and passengers. By the latest novices from New Zealand, (April 12) we learn she had gone loto dock at Dunetin. How long she would remain is not certain. She had a spare propeller on board.

Prof. N. F. Zaba, the author of a new system of Universal History and Chronology, arrived on the last steamer. Prof. Zaha is an Austrian gentleman, of high literary standing, who has visited nearly every country. His system has been iniroduced it many of the educational institutions in Europe, the United States, Bezzil, &c. He pra-poses to deliver a free lecture on his new system at the Lycrum, which will take place on Monday evening. All laterested in education are invited. No charge.

-Among the through passengers by the same steamer was Sir Daniel Cooper, Colonial Agent in London for the New Zealand government. He was on his way back to N. Z. after several years residence in England.

Our friend McLoreny, can furnish any information to parties desirous of improving their stock from the above celebrated flocks.

THE BOAT RACES. -On Thursday of last week a couple of boat races came off between Hawaiian crews, and bouts from the Myrmidon and Luckawasus. The starting point was a boat moored near the cattle-wharf, and Captain Bebrock acted as starter. The first mee was between a whale boat belonging to His Majesty, and a boat belonging to the Myrmidon. The Myrmidons took the lead at the start and slowly increased the distance between the two boats until the spar buoy was reached. Owing to a mis-materistanding the Myrondoo's boat came around the spar buoy instead of the bell boot, which was the designated stake. The native crew kept on and sunded the bell buoy and of course came in a long ays behind the English beat. On the matter be-g referred to Capt. Smith, the judge, be decided no race," and it consequently will have to be led over again. In the second race, between the Governor's gig and the Captain's gig of the Lacka-wanna, the natives took the lead at the start, but owing to their lack of continued power, or the au-periority of the Lacka-wanna boat, or for some other cause, they were soon distanced and left a long ways astern, and the Americans won the race. OFFICIAL RUDENESS .- A titled officer in the ser vice of a foreign government, who was a passenger on board the steamship City of New York, had ocion to call at one of the offices of the government during his stay in port, and net a characteristic reception, which ought not to be passed over without notice. A knock at the door brought the Hawaiian Government official to the front, who demanded in Government official to the front, who demanded in a wild tone, "What do you want here?" accompanied with looks and manner that must have remanded the visitor of the asyage attack on Capt. Cook; and the door immediately closed. Another rap or two caused it to open again, wide enough to pass it a letter of introduction which the stranger brought, on receiving which and noticing the name of the distinguished visitor, the aforesaid official stammenced "Oh, sh, Mr. ——! Beg parlon, but can't stop to attend to you now," or something to this purport. The distinguished stranger left with any but exalted notions of the only Rawalian government official he had the misfortone to encounter during his short stay in port. As the steamer convered him away, what must have been his reflections concerning Hawalian civilization? Should be ever return this way, we trust he will not be treated with such anpardocable rodeness, and that at least one public officer will have learned that one of the first lessons of civil service is civility to strangers as well as others.
